OVERALL RATING				Overall Rating	Good
Executive Feedback on Overall Rating	This is a strong evaluation that was based on a robust mixed methods approach that included consultation with a large quantity of diverse stakeholders, beneficiaries, and non-beneficiaries. The findings are well presented and based on the objective use of the reported data. The conclusions are strong overall but tend to focus primarily on the project's strengths and could benefit from providing more information on how the project could be improved. Recommendations are based on the findings and conclusions but need to better identify the target group for action and should be presented in priority order. The evaluation demonstrates best practices in its excellent integration of GEEW and human rights principles.
PARAMETER 1: OBJECT AND CONTEXT OF THE EVALUATION			PARAMETER 1	Good
Executive Feedback on Parameter 2	The report is strong at providing a clear and full description of the object of the evaluation. It is particularly strong at describing the roles, responsibilities, and contributions of each of the four implementation partners. The only information missing is the level of funding provided by each funding partner.
PARAMETER 2: PURPOSE, OBJECTIVES AND SCOPE			PARAMETER 2	Good
Executive Feedback on Parameter 2	The evaluation's purpose, objectives, and scope are sufficiently clear to guide the evaluation. Information provided to explain how GEEW and human rights were included in the evaluation process is particularly strong. While the evaluation identifies the evaluation users, the report does not explicitly state how the information obtained through the evaluation will be used by the end users.
PARAMETER 3: METHODOLOGY			PARAMETER 3	Very Good
Executive Feedback on Parameter 3	The evaluation is based on a strong mix-methods methodology that included a diverse range of beneficiaries, non-beneficiaries, and stakeholders. Information on the data collection methods, data sources, sampling frame, stakeholder consultation, human rights and GEEW considerations, and ethics is complete. The report is also strong at justifying methodological choices and at presenting limitations.
PARAMETER 4: FINDINGS			PARAMETER 4	Very Good

Executive Feedback on Parameter 4	Findings are clearly presented around each evaluation criterion, are relevant, demonstrate systematic and appropriate analysis, and are objectively reported. Unintended positive and negative effects (which includes unexpected findings) are identified within a sub-section. The findings are strong at discussing factors that have contributed towards or hindered success.
PARAMETER 5: CONCLUSIONS AND LESSONS LEARNED	PARAMETER 5 Good
Executive Feedback on Parameter 5	The conclusions provide valuable insights and are related to the evaluation findings. However, they are predominantly focused on the project's strengths and do not adequately identify areas for improvement or identify solutions to important problems. The lessons learned are correctly formulated and can be applied to other contexts or scenarios.
PARAMETER 6: RECOMMENDATIONS	PARAMETER 6 Satisfactory
Executive Feedback on PARAMETER 6	Recommendations are supported by evidence; are relevant to the object and purpose of the evaluation; and were developed in consultation with stakeholders. However, not all of the recommendations identify the target group for action and they are not presented in priority order.
PARAMETER 7: GENDER AND HUMAN RIGHTS	PARAMETER 7 Meets Requirements
Executive Feedback on PARAMETER 7	GEEW and human rights principles are thoroughly mainstreamed throughout the report, which specific evaluation questions dedicated to GEEW and human rights and with a methodological approach specifically designed to be sensitive to GEEW and human rights.
PARAMETER 8: THE REPORT STRUCTURE	PARAMETER 8 Good
Executive Feedback on PARAMETER 8	The report is logically structured; includes a very strong Executive Summary (that is succinctly written and that provides great insight into the findings and recommendations); and presents extensive annexes that increase the report's credibility. All of the information necessary is present within the opening pages, with the exception of the evaluation timeframe.
